The Deadlock Between Senate and House on the Appropriation Bills.

TRANSPER OF INDIAN TRUST FUNDS

FRIGHT AMONG THE FRONTIERSMEN.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WARRINGTON, June 7, 1876 THE DEADLOCK ON THE APPROPRIATION BILLS-THE HOUSE TO PERSIST IN ITS RE-DUCTIONS-STARTLING RESULTS LIKELY TO

The deadlock between the House and Senate on the subject of the appropriations will not be broken so readily as was anticipated. In fact it promises to be a most serious matter. It will be remembered that the two houses joined issue on the Diplomatic and Consular bill, which was returned from the Senate with 142 amendments. Conference committees were appointed, but unavailingly, the Senate refusing to recede from its amendments and the House standing out for the original bill. The usual course under such circumstances is to appoint a new and distinct conference committee, but the democratic leaders have determined to adhere rigidly to the programme of wholesale retrenchment, and Mr. Cox, Acting Speaker in the absence of Mr. Kerr, who is given another ten days' leave, will nominate the same committee to meet whatever delegation like Senate may send for a further conference. This is only another way of telling the Senate that the House will insist upon the reductions begun with the Juplomatic bill and extending through all the appropriation measures to the extent of about $40,000,000. If permisted in this policy will cause a startling situation of affairs before the new fiscal year is a week old. THE CURRENCY QUESTION—THE SILVER BILLS

TO RECEIVE RARLY ATTENTION-ANTICIPATED ACTION ON THE RESUMPTION LAW.

The Banking and Currency Committee will meet to-morrow, their regular day, but, as Mearra Gibson and Payns are out of town, a quorum may not be present. It is known, however, that the committee has agreed to the two silver bills, and the report will likely be to the two silver bills, and the report will likely be made to-morrow, the committee being empowered now to report at any time. Mr. Cox, its chairman, says that the original bill, Mr. Payne's, to facilitate the issuance of the silver coin aiready authorized, is greatly demanded from all parts. Treasurer New confirming him in the statement. The other bill provides for $20,000,000 of subsidiary silver coin and to keep the trade dollar deprived of its legal lender quality. When the full committee gets logether it is quite likely that the subject of reporting a bill to amend the Resumption act will have immediate attention. This amendment will probably be the striking out of the date for which resumption is fixed. PRAUDULENT EFFORTS TO INFLUENCE DELEGATES

TO CINCINNATI-HOW THE OPPONENTS OF BLAIME AND CONKLING STRIVE TO PREVENT

Two gross frauds have been discovered here, both put orth by the adherents of one of the Presidential candi-ates. The first is a very bitter and unpropulous attack on Mr. Blaine, which, by home who privately circulate it, is false-r attributed to Mr. Conkling's friends. r attributed to Mr. Conkling's friends. seither Mr. Conkling nor his friends, nor any one sworable to him, have had anything to do with the eparation or circulation of this pamphiet; but the ign of it is known and will be exposed should those staged in its circulation continue to ascribe it to the leads of Mn Conkilog. The second fraud from the me source is in the circulation of a paper of which

ARLINGTON HOUSE, June 3, 1876,
Your election to represent the Maryland Association in the National Convention prompts me to write you sencerning your visit to Cincinnatt. I suppose you, like all Marylanders, are a pronounced Bhine man. While I do not ask you to desert Mr. Blaine it is evident, in the light of recent investigations, that he cannot be nominated, and II nominated he could not secure an election by the people. We would like your assistance for Mr. Conkling and I am prepared to offer you something substantial if you will fall into line in the support of Roscoe Conking. I feel sure of your assistance in the light of the late investigations, and if you feel disposed call at the rooms of the New York delegation in Cincinnati and register. We know our friends and roward them afterward.

WALTER GOBRIGHT,
Corresponding Secretary Conking Club,
Washington, D. C.
This is a shameless fraud. There is no person of the name Walter Gobright connected with any Conkling or ganization, and the paper, which is ingeniously hande about, is intended to injure Mr. Conkling, as the pam phlet before mentioned, circulated as coming from Mr. Conkling, is intended to strike at him and Mr. Blam at the same time. Both have been traced to the same source—to the supporters of another candidate who, in their eagerness, scruple at nothing which seems to them

A PANIC AMONG THE PEOPLE OF THE PROM-TIER-AN AFPEAL POR ARMS.

The General of the Army is besieged with applica-tions for troops to protect the Western frontier towns from the apprenended raids of the hostile Indians and, in fact, from the number of letters addressed to the War Department on the subject, it is thought that the people must be in a general state of panic. An amusing letter was received from the Marshal of Montana today, who gives a vivid picture of the impending dangers arising from the warlike attitude of the Indians and mays that having carried arms in the late rebellion he a ready to volunteer as a private now or to organize a company for desence of the Western settlements if the government will furnish arms which, at this time, is olijected to by the War Department. The Governor of alentana and Delegate Kidder of Dakota have addressed the War Department appealingly for aid in their pres-

AROUND FOR A FIGHT.

The warlike scene in the Sub-Judiciary Committee room to-day when Mr. Pro-tor Knott and Mr. Blaine had so excited a controversy has directed attention afresh to a sentence in Mr. Knott's speech last Monday when he said, with regard to the insinuation that the Cadwell telegram had been suppressed, that any man, high or low, whoever he might be, who would eisewhere make such an insinuation would have to take the consequences. The "fighting editor" of the Washington Chronicle quotes this sentonce in full and then ington Chronicle quies this sentonce in this and then goes on to say:—"If Mr. Knott will consider the Chronicle office as being 'clsewhere,' by pasting its sauctum he may not only hear

THE CENTENNIAL POUNTH OF JULY-PROPOSED CELEBRATIONS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

In turtherance of the President's proclamation, carrying out the provisions of the bill introduced by Mr. G. A. Hardenberg, of New Jersey, for the recognition of the approaching Centennial Fourth of July, by having orations, together with the history of the place for 100 years, held in every town of the United States, among many the following conspicuous appointments have been made:—Mr. Soelye, of Massachusetts, is to speak at Bethel, Conn.; Mr. Faulkner, of Virginia, at Berkeley, Va., and Mr. Crape, of Massachusetts, at New Bedford. All throughout Massachusetts preparations have been made for a general and nignal celebration of the occasion in the manner recommended by the President.

GENERAL WASHINGTON DESPATCHES.

EXCITING SCENE IN THE JUDICIARY COM-MITTER BOOM-STRONG LANGUAGE AND IM-MEDIATE WITEDRAWAL OF THE SAME BY MR.

The scene between Representatives Knott and Blaine to-day in the room of the Committee on Judiciary, was at times of the most exciting character, especially on at times of the most exciting character, especially on the part of Mr. Knott in consequence of questions asked by Mr. Blaine which Mr. Knott supposed impugned his honor. After the sub-committee adjourned Mr. Knott, approaching Mr. Frye, a member of the committee, and who has been in attendance as the advisory friend of Mr. Blaine, said to him:—

"Mr. Frye, your friend Blaine is the God damnedest secoundrel in America." This remark or its equivalent having already found its way into print, it should be added that Mr. Frye replied:—

"You forget yourself, Mr. Knott."

"Yee," said Mr. Knott, "I do," and be thereupon immediately withdrew the remark and apologized for having made it.

AMERICAN JOCKEY CLUB.

THIRD DAT OF THE SPRING MEETING AT JEROME PARK.

The racing at Jerome Park this afternoon, from the character of the entries for the several events, should be of a superior order, and as the track will be in much better condition than on the previous days of the meeting, faster time may be anticipated. Four races are on the card, the first being the Juvenile Stakes for are on the card, the first being the Juvenile Stakes for two-year-olds, a dash of half a mile, which closed with twenty-six nominations of as finely bred youngsters as ever appeared on the American turf. The second race will be mile heats, and this will be a good one beyond doubt, judging from the entries. The third race will be a dash of a mile and a half, with maiden allowances, be a dash of a mile and a half, with maiden allowances, and the number of good ones entered for it makes the event a very doubtful one. The closing race will be for three-year-olds, a dash of a mile and an eighth, with a maiden allowance of three pounds. The following are a few of the pool sales at the room of the American Jockey Club last night, which will be interesting to those who intend visiting Jerome Park, as it gives the speculators estimate of the capabilities of the horses engaged in the several races:—

THE DERBY WINNER. .

The London sporting papers to the 27th ult., received yesterday by the steamer Soythia, contain frequent and extended reference to the approaching Derby. In almost every instance the turf prophets seemed to be convinced that Lord Dupplin's Petrarch must prove the winner of the great event at Epsom. But "Bloys," of Bell's Life, considered the Mineral coit's chances very excellent, and was of the opinion that his stamina was better than Petrarch'a. He says.—

Let me come at once to the peint by stating that I consider the Mineral coit his (Petrarch's) most dangerous adversery. When this youngster, whose name will appear on Wednesday's card, is seen at Epsom, critics will very likely express disappointment. He has not the elegance and style of Petrarch, but is one of the thoroughly useful stamp that will not be "done with" until the post is passed. It is strange with what obstinacy some people repeat the query, "How is he to reverse the Middle Park Plate form "I think he reversed the Middle Park Plate form very decidedly indeed when he met Madeira, the second in that race, for the Dewhurst Plate, a forinight later in the autumn, and not only beat her "out of sight," but completely galloped down Springlield, who up to that time had but once sustained defeat, and that by a head only. That his friends had good cause for setting down the Middle Park Plate desiance. Both in his winning race, in his autumn gallops with Corruteus, and this spring when put together with the Artemis coit, the Mineral coit has given unmistakable proof of his stamina, and that he will stay every inch of the Derby course I do not for an instant doubt. That he has not Petrarch's fine dash of speed is probable, but speed alone will not win the Derby, and should the race come to a long-sustained struggle between the two, I shall expect to see Mr. Baltazn's coit wear his formidable rival down and win. The young Buccanner's are runniar very well at preasont, and has Buslay the valuable Austrian Derby at Vienna was won by another of 'Buc's' sons, Good Hope. It will form an odd conicidence of the greater Derby of Wednesday next falls to another child of th

In order to show how general the opinion was in England, prior to the Derby, that Lord Dupplin's Petrarch could not lose that green race, the following from the London Sportsman, 26th uit, is given:

The keeper of the match book has given his prophecy for the Derby, Each season it is the practice of the official named to make a free handicap of the leading three-year-olds in England and France, and the latest preduction in this way was made known to-day. An accoptance has to, be declared for the race noxt Tuesday—the day before the Durby—but the event has not to be decided till the Thursday in the Newmarket Houghton Meeting. With an animal like Petrarch to deal with the compiler of the weights could, of course, do no more than give the Two Thousand winner the heaviest impost, and Lord Dupplin's colt is asked to concede six pounds to Skylark and a like amount to the Mineral colt, while nine pounds is allowed for the beating which Petrarch gave Julius Cessar in the Two Thousand. Braconnier is deemed the best of the Franch colts, but the handicapper makes it out that he five pounds inferior to Count Lagrange's One Thousand heroire, Camelia, who is now second lavorite for the Oaks. The handicap will, as usual, present a widely different appearance when the acceptances are made known, but in the meantime it is sufficient to note that the keeper of the match book thinks Petrarca so far aboad of those of his age that from his handicap the deduction may be made that he considers the Two Thousand winner likely to win the Derby.

PETRARCH'S HALF BROTHER DEAD.

cently sustained a severe loss in the death of The Czar, two-year-old half brother to the winner of the Two Thousand Guineas. The Czar was by Blinkhoolie, Two Thousand Guineus. The Czar was by Blinkhoolie, out of Laura, and gave every promise of sustaining the family prestige as a race horse. He was doing well until Sunday morning, 21st uit, when he fell down in his box with a ruptured liver, and died in less than an hour. Besides heavy two-year-old engagements, The Czar was entered for next year's Two Thousand, Champion Stakes at Newmarkot, Derby, Prince of Wales' Stakes at Ascot, St. Leger and Grand Prize of Paris.

PRINCE OF WALES' ARABIAN HORSE

We have much pleasure in announcing, says the London Sporting Life, May 24, that His Royal Highness the Princo of Wales has placed his recently imported Arabian horse, "Alep," in the hands of Mr. Fothergill Rowlands. "Our Special Commissioner," seeing the horse stripped within a few hours of his arrival, and pronounces him to be a most beautifully snaped animal, remarkance for his excellent times, and gifted with far better feet than are usually characteristic of the Arab. The horse is a bay, with black points and white hind heels. Owing to the effects of a long journey his coat was somewhat "open," but as he had his head well in the manger and seemed in thorough health "Our Special Commissioner" believes that he will soon exhibit the famous "Pitt Place polish." During a lengthened turf career "Alep" has known de-During a lengthoned turf career "Alop" has know leat but twice, and whatever may be the intentic His Royal Highness with regard to him we must gratulate the Prince of Wales on having placed under such experienced charge.

A NOTED ENGLISH TURFMAN DEAD

Intelligence reaches us, says the London Sportsman we regret to announce, took place on Wednesday, 24th uit, at his residence, Hunter's Hill, Gateshoad, in the seventy-sixth year of his age. Mr. Hewett was a foremost figure on the turf, especially as a breeder of blood stock, and his annual sales at York always conblood stock, and his ennual sales at York always con-tributed a feature of the August Meeting; in fact, Measrs. Tattersail's catalogue for years was never com-plete without the "sale of the Gibside yearlings." Nowry, who won the Middle Park Plate in 1873, was bred by him, and many others who took honors on the flat were foaled at Gibside. Mr. Hewett was an excel-ient specimen of the English country gentleman, and his uniform courtesy and urbanity will be remembered far beyond his own immediate circle.

The play was very even throughout, as teither side was able to take another goal unring the prescrioed time, consequently the match resulted in a tie. The ground, after the recent rains, is in spiendid order, and on Saturday next some crack glayers will put in an appearance. The band of the First Life Guards will be in attendance.—Morning Post, May 25.

YACHTING.

ENTRIES, PRIZES, SAILING DIRECTIONS AND COURSE FOR THE ANNUAL NEW YORK YACHT CLUB REGATTA.

The annual regatts of the New York Yacht Club, the great yachting event of the season, will be sailed to-day over the regular yachting course. Yachting this season will be yachting course. Yachting this season will be very interesting, as the races for the America's cup give an international feature to the sport that attracts the attention of the public. There will be five races to-day, as the yachts have been divided into five classes, as follows:—Keel schooners, first class sloops and second class centreboard schooners, first class sloops and second class sloops. For the keel schooner class the Rambler, Alarm, Wanderer and Restless will probably come together. The first three are certain to meet; but the question to what class the Restless belongs has not, yet been decided. As she measures under 7,000 cubic feet she classes as a second class schooter; and, again, being a keel boat, she ought not to be classed with centreboard yachts. The Regata Committee, rith centroboard yachts. The Regatta Committee, owever, will probably arrange the matter satisfactorily. Considerable interest will be displayed to see how the Rambler will sail with the Alarm and Wanderer, now that she has been rebuilt, and it appears to be the opinion of yachting men that although not improved in beauty she has gained in speed. In the first class centreboard schooners the Tidal Wave, Palmer, Idler and Madeleine come together. This is certain to be a good race, and the Regatta Committee will pay especial attention to the performance of the yachts with a view to selecting the representative of the New York Yacht Club in the races for the America's cup gainst the Countess of Dufferin. There are nye entries in the second class schooner class—Estelle, Comet, Peerless, Clio and Mets. This race looks like another ictory for the Comet if there is not half a gale of wind. in the first class sloops there are the Arrow, Gracie, Vindex, Addie Voorhis and Petrel, a quintet hard to be beaten. The Gracie and Addie Voorhis have not to be beaten. The Gracie and Addie Voorhis have not sailed against one another- for some time, and the race between them will be watched with much interest. The Arrow is a very handsome sloop yacht, and, if her appearance does not belie her, ought to sail very fast. If there is a still breeze Rear Commodore Center will be able to give them a race with the Vindex that will interest the spectators. The Active, Windward, Madcap and Breeze come together in the second class sloops, and the race between the Active and Madcap is sure to be closely contested. The following yachts will start on the race and receive the allowances down in the tabular form.

The signals for starting will be given from the judges' steamer as follows:—For a preparatory signal, one gus, and the yach club flag on the judges' steamer will be lowered; and ton minutes later, for the start, one gun, and the flag will be again lowered. Fifteen minutes after the second gun will be allowed for yachts to cross the line, after which no yacht's time will be taken, unless instructions to the contrary are given by the judges on the morning of the regatta. To mark the expiration of the fifteen minutes after the second gun will be allowed for yachts to cross the line, after which no yacht's time will be taken, unless instructions to the contrary are given by the judges on the morning of the regatta. To mark the expiration of the fifteen minutes after the second gun will be salted the whistie will be given as the time of each yacht's taken at the start.

The course will be from the starting point, as above,

The course will be from the starting point, as above, to channel busy No. 10, passing to the weakward and southward thereof; thence to Southwest Spit busy No. 8½, keeping to the weakward and southward thereof; thence to and around Sandy Book lightship, keeping it on the starboard hand; and return over the same course. Yachts must keep to the eastward of busys Nos. 11, 13 and 15 on the West Bank, and outside of busy No. 5½ on the point of Sandy Hook, going and returning, and will pass between the judges' steamer and busy No. 15, where the race will terminate. Yachts not entered are requested to keep to leeward of those engaged in the race, and not to interfere with them in any way, particularly at the turning points.

There are five prizes offered by the New York Yacht Club, one for each class, of an elegant and finished design. A large chowder dish, with the side handles representing an aloatross holding a fish in his mouth, and the famous three-handled "irving cup," comprise two of the prizes. There are also two large vases, neatly embossed with figures of dolphins on each sude, and a neat tankard, ornemented bandsomely with neatly emborsed with figures of dolphins on each side, and a neat tankard, ornemented bandsomely with raised work, representing seaweed and fish. All the pieces except the three-handled cup (which is burnished silver) are colored with oxide of gold. They are about the most elegant prizes ever offered by the club, and reflect credit on the good taste of the committee that selected them. The schooners and sloops will also contest for the two challengo cups that have been returned to the club. The yachts will be accompanied around the course by a number of large steamers for the accommodation of the public, and the New York Yacht Club will as usual have a steamer for their members and their guesta and the William Fietcher for the use of the judges and members of the press.

THE BROOKLYN YACHT CLUB-TWO CLASSES OF SCHOONERS FOR SATURDAY'S REGATTA-NO CHANGE IN THE COURSE.

A meeting of the Rogatta Committee of the Brooklyn Yacht Club was held last evening, Mr. Alonzo Slote in the chair. Mr. John Sawyer mentioned that the owners of small schooners objected to entering their vesdiscussion the committee decided to divide the schoolers into two classes, as has been done in the New York ers into two classes, as has been done in the New York club. The division is made at 80 foot boats at the water line. Schooners over 80 feet are in the first class, and those 80 feet or under are in the second. This will make another class in the regata of Saturday and add another to the prizes sailed for. Seventeen yachts have already been entered for this race. Mr. Sawyer also referred to the objections that had been made to fixing the finish in front of the club house in Gravesend Bay. The most important of these objections was the one advanced by some that there is not sufficient depth of water at that point. This objection was disposed of by Mr. Dillon, who said that he had made measurements at and off the club wharf and could guarantee plenty of water at dead low tide.

A CHALLENGE ACCEPTED. The result of the race of the Jersey City Yacht Club on Tuesday was very unsatisfactory to the owners of some of the boats. The Captain of the Addie Taylor inatas that had it not been for the accident of Staton Island the Taylor would have beaten the Willie, her competitor in the first class. The owner of the Willie tsaued a challenge yesterday to sail the Addie Taylor for a purse, and the challenge was accepted.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

[From the London Sporting Gazette, May 27.] The stewards and committee have finally fixed this regatta for the 29th and 30th June, the dates originally hosen. They state that they regret this fixture should the preponderance of evidence in favor of a change from the days to which the meeting had been altered (viz., 22d and 23d June) was so apparent from the communications received on the subject that it left them no alternative. This is doubtless quite correct, as it was alternative. This is doubtless quite correct, as it was evident that the day following Commenceration day would never do, unless Oxford crews were to be shut out entirely, which would be simply to spoil the regatta; but it does not seem very clear why it was necessary for the siewards to hark back and refix the two days that they knew to be most objectionable to the Loudon division. It would, however, be most irregular to please everybody, and certainty Henley would not be Henley without a grumbling contingent to carse the committee.

BILLIARDS.

THE LAST OF THE TIE GAMES-DALY THE VICTOR. The last of the tie games was played last night be-tween Rudolphe and Daly, resulting in a victory for Daiy by a score of 300 to 163. To-night the 600 point games in the new tournament commence. The first bout will be between Slosson and Rudolphe. The match between Cyrille Dion and Maurice Daly for a stake of $1,000, 2,000 points up, will open as Tammany played each evening. Rudoiphe is matched to play Shaf-fer for a stake of $1,000. Sexton is also matched to play fer for a stake of $1,000. Sexton is also matched to play Shaffer and bets $1,000 to $400. In the game last night Daly won the lead, but failed to score. Radolphe rolled up 43 on his first play and sat down after a simple miss. Daly made 19, missed, and next put in a well played run of 75. Rudolphe added but 1 point, meantime, to his string, the game standing 94, 44 in Daly's lavor. On the sixth inning Daly made a foul and lost a chance for a good run; but on the ninth he made 52, and on the eleventh the game stood 180 to 107. The next inning Rudolphe made 51 and missed a simple shot with the balls in the most favorable potention. This brought him within two points of his opponent. Daly took the lead again with a run of 72, which demoralized Rudolphe, who missed an easy anot after scoring 2. Daly played sgain and made 27. Rudolphe scored a solitary 1. From this point Rudolphe missed the samplest abots, and Daly finished the game with 25 on the sixteenth inning.

The following is the score.

GOSS AND ALLEN.

[From the London Sporting and Dramatic News, May

27.]

"Those renowned pugilists, Mace and Goss, who are at present on a tour with Howes & Cushing's Great Hippodrome, are causing quite a furore in America. We learn (says the Sporting Life) that the $500 deposited by Goss in the hands of Eph. Helland, of Cincin-Ited by Goss in the hands of Rph. Helland, of Cincinnati, to make a match to fight Tom Allen, of St. Louis, for the championship of that country and a purse of from $1,000 to $5,000 has been covered by Allen, and a fight will come off in about a month's time. "We take leave to present that the fight will not come off either in a month's or at any other time. Either Goss will fail sick or Allen will feel an unconquerable yearning for a change of air or the authorities will interfere. But Cussing's Great Hippodrome will go on and the puglishte part of the exhibition continue to draw so long as Goss makes public announcements of his determination to fight Allen.

THE RIFLE TEAM COMPETITIONS.

BELECTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL TEAM-THE LEADING SIXTEEN.

The body of experts from among whose number the American rifle team of 1876 is to be chosen met at Creedmoor yesterday to shoot in the second stage of the second competition. Upon call-ing the roll it was found that the absentees of the day before were similarly wanting yesone marksmen present. At the lower ranges, 800 and 900 yards, the wind was not very troublesome to the iffemen, but as the afternoon progressed the evening breeze came up stronger and stronger, and what was of far more consequence to the shooters, blew at a very unsteady gait and from various directions in rapid succession. Farwell, at 800 yards, made the best 72 which it was possible to make, having 3 centres at opening and closing with 12 consecutive buil's-eyes; G. W. Yale at the same range did a brilliant piece of shooting, in having thirteen bull's eyes in filteen shots; ing reputation as an expert marksman, but at the longer ranges the wind and the work got the better of the scores, and a great failing off is noticeable. Polton went to pieces again, coming out at the close of the day's work far down the list. The worst luck seemed to attend Mr. Rathbone. At the last range his rule, which is of a make very liable to foul gave the impression that it was a smooth bore, the grooves and lands losing their identity and merging into a smooth surface. Under the rule, however, he could not use another man's weapon, though several were profered, and fired on, winning his score were profered, and fired on, winning his score for the day with a tetal of about 161 out of the possible 250. The conclusion of the day's work enabled the committee having charge of the match to announce the sixteen men having the highest aggregate, at the four days' work already gone through with. These sixteen will shoot in two days' competition on Tucsday and Wednesday next, when four more of their number will be climinated from the list and the twelve of team and reserve finally decided on. The aggregates for this choice out of the possible 1,000 points stood:—

THE LONDON GUN CLUB.

ARTHUR CHAMBERS NOT DEAD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD :-

In your issue of the lat inst. you published an obituary notice of me. I am most happy to inform you that I am not only not dead, but gradually recovering from my severe illness. A "rough" of this city bit one of my fingers nearly off some time age, and, not giving it attention, ervaipelas set in which was with the greatest difficulty checked. I am now setting along nicely, however, and my only symptoms of consumption are those which can despatch a great quantity of mutten chops and beef steak. Respectfully, ABTHUE CHAMBERS, 962 Ridge avenue.
